COMMERCIAL ORCHARDS.

There is a scope of country lying east and southeast of Ardmore comprising probably about 120 square miles of territory that is as fine a peach belt as there is anywhere. A Californian who recently went over that section and inspected it closely said the soil has every appearance of the California fruit lands that sell upon the market at prices ranging from $500 to $1,000 an acre.
 When he learned that the lands could be bought for $15 an acre he made a purchase and will give fruit a try-out in that section.

The fruit industry here is not an unknown quantity. It has been tested and found profitable and more trees are sold here from year to year.
 One nursery man who works out of this town sold the past year for November and December delivery, 1,100 different orders. Of course these were mostly fill-in orders and were small ones, but there are many commercial orchards here that have paid well and fruit growers are well pleased with the results.

To say that there are no failures in fruit growing would be making a misstatement of the facts, but we can say that there are fewer failures here than in East Texas or in Georgia, where farmers have made good money in the fruit business. The Texas peaches are off the market when the Oklahoma peaches come in.
 Arkansas is the only competitor which this country has in the fruit line and both of these states have never raised a crop that overstocked the market and each year that the Carter county growers have shipped fruit they have made good profits on their investment.

The enterprise has grown here until an east Texas concern is planning to build a basket factory in Ardmore to supply the demands for baskets and crates for fruit and melon and vegetable shipments. Cottonwood timber that grows along the river and creek banks will be used for making the crates and the factory will employ 75 workers.

CITY SCHOOL SYSTEM.

Too much cannot be said in favor of the schools of this city. Pupils have been attracted here from adjoining states to attend High School. This school has been made more than a High School. It is a College. Young men and young women who have been away to college are back here in the schools and by co-operation with the State University, two years of the University course can be given here. Art, music, domestic science, a full business course, such as bookkeeping, sten-ography, typewriting, etc., are given free in the schools. The buildings are among the best in the profession and Supt. Chas. W. Richards is building here a monument to himself that shall stand for many years to come. That monument is in the splendid moral and educational training of young men and women. No parent could ask for better schools than Ardmore has.

LOVES OUR SCHOOLS.

State Superintendent Robert H.
 Wilson, who was here Friday in speaking of the Ardmore schools, "In my opinion Ardmore has the credit of turning out one whom I consider the finest young material in the state. That young man is Louis A. Ledbetter, who is now practicing law at Idabel, Okla. After finishing the High School in Ardmore he went through the law department of the State University.

 He made a record in school, he stood at the top in the University and as a young lawyer he is wending his way to the top of his profession.
 When a school can turn out such men as young Ledbetter it is a school worth a thousand times every dollar it has ever cost and I congratulate Ardmore people upon their system of schools."

THE YOUNG MAN.

Give the young man a chance. The young man owes too much to himself and his parents to remain in a humdrum life where there is nothing to inspire. He is likely to fall into a rut, he is likely to be content with his surroundings without trying to make them better. Push him out.
 Buy him a ticket to Ardmore and turn him loose. Here is work for his hands, here is inspiration for his thoughts. The oil fields are busy, asphalt lies here to be developed, the town is growing and building, new enterprises are starting and Ardmore offers an opportunity to the young man who wants to catch the fire of life and getting in the fighting that makes for success.

RULING MADE ON HAWKINS PAROLEGOVERNOR CRUCE SUSTAINED IN LEGAL BATTLE AGAINST LIEU-TENANT GOV. McALESTER.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Dec. 14.— That a prisoner paroled from the state penitentiary is bound by the terms and conditions made known in the face of his parole papers, was the holding of the Criminal Court of Appeals in denying the application of Nelson Hawkins for release on writ of habeas corpus. Hawkins was serving a forty-year sentence for manslaughter in the first degree, committed in Pontotoc County, and on Sept. 22, 1911, while Gov. Cruce was thought to be out of the state, was given a parole by acting Gov. McAlester. Eight days later Gov. Cruce revoked the parole on the ground that he was in the state at the time it was issued.
 Hawkins was rearrested.

Record of the parole shows it was signed by McAlester at 9:55 a. m. By stipulation of attorneys for Hawkins and the state, it was agreed that the main bringing Gov. Cruce into the state crossed the state line between 8:04 and 8:06 a. m. of that day.

The record of the parole was attacked as being incorrect, the attorneys asserting that in fact the acting governor signed the parole at 8 a. m., four minutes before the governor actually entered the state.

The court held that when a prisoner accepts a parole, as Hawkins did on Sept. 22, he is bound by all of its conditions and restraints, and will not be permitted to impeach or contradict them. The court took occasion to reaffirm its holding in the Crump case, concerning the executive authority, when the governor leaves the state.
 It is held that when the governor leaves the state, his powers as an executive lie dormant as far as he is concerned, and that the lieutenant governor becomes vested with all the rights and prerogatives of the office; also, that when the governor returns to the state, the moment he crosses the state line, the executive power is again upon his shoulders.

The opinion does not deal with the governor's authority to revoke a parole on account of conditions not specifically fixed in the papers, the question before the court being purely one of time touching the passing of the executive functions between the two executives. The opinion was delivered by Judge Henry M. Furman.

STREET STORIES.

G. W. Young who moved back here some days ago from Oklahoma City, was looking contented and happy this morning. He is back with the Had-son-Houston Lumber Company where he has accepted a position as yard man.

The Ringling road leaves at 7:30 each morning now for the oil fields.
 The change in schedule gives the oil men one hour longer in the fields.

Will Gilbert who is a well-known attorney in this portion of the state, has recently moved from Oklahoma City to Los Angeles, California.

J. V. Tagbell is here today from Oklahoma City. He was transacting some business in the courts and was also checking over some oil leases for clients who have made purchases in the oil fields.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Taliaferro received Saturday a parcel post package that proved to be a vessel of fine country sausage sent them from Sag-den. At this season of the year what could be more acceptable than a basket of country sausage.

Will Stewart of Los Angeles, Cal., is here visiting with his mother, Mrs.
 W. D. Taliaferro. Mr. Stewart has been selling some town lots in Cooper and has done well with the sale.
 He owns a farm adjoining that city, and there came a demand for a portion of it to be used for townsite purposes.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Morgan will spend the holidays with relatives in Holcomb, Miss. Mr. Morgan leaves today on a business trip for the eastern portion of the state and he will meet Mrs. Morgan at Howe Saturday and they will make the trip east together.

Tyler and Simpson have installed a new Burroughs adding machine constructed especially for the firm from ideas and suggestions furnished the manufacturer by the boys in the office, who have to use it every day.
 The machine is a wonder and as a time saver it has anything of the kind been to a whisper that was ever used in that office. Mr. Simpson stated that it ought to be a good thing as the price paid for it would buy a good automobile fully equipped.

Everett Cruce and wife moved from here yesterday to Kingston. Mr. Cruce has been there working at the carpenter's trade for several months, and other contracts have been secured and he decided to take Mrs. Cruce there until the work is finished.

A. L. Cruce returned yesterday to Kingston after a visit here with his family. Mr. Cruce has put up $27,000 worth of new buildings in Kingston and says the prospects are that he will be as well as in that city all next year, as a great deal of improving is going on. He states that Kingston merchants are doing the heaviest business in the history of the city, and the town is growing very fast.

Joe Lathrop was so well pleased with the Sunday Ardmoreite that he ordered a number of copies sent to friends in Texas, whom he would like to have know something of this country.

Mrs. James H. Mathers has recovered sufficiently to be up a portion of the time and was out Sunday for a walk. She has been ill for several weeks.

The American Crusaders held services in the county jail yesterday.
 There were a number in the crowd to assist in the singing. Following the services a number of women came bringing magazines and newspapers to give to the prisoners.
